

OSNCA Member Ride Bob and Candy Smith 65 Pontiac

Many years ago in far away Minnesota, a new Pontiac Catalina hardtop joined the Smith family.

Little did Bob Smith know that after 41 years, that's most of a lifetime later, he and wife Candy would be driving his Dad's '65 Catalina and it would still have only 42K miles on it.

The stacked quad headlights were the styling mod for Pontiac that year. And the trunk is so large that Tony Soprano would call it a "three hit trunk". Much has been made of Chevy's 396 big block, but here's a car with only six little cubic inches less, a 389.

The Smiths are seen at car events all over the tri-state area in their Pontiac "survivor". They've owned a home in LHC for 20 years, but just moved here permanently three years ago.
